

BRIEF NOTES OF FINANCE

Paragraphs of Current Interest for the Investor.

The reports from Washington that the Controller of the Currency will make further efforts to improve the efficiency of bank examinations will be appreciated by the banking public, even if its stringency may be objected to by the bankers. Like Pope's reference to a little learning, a little protection is a dangerous thing, so it is time that some banking institutions, those at least which are inclined to be careless with the public's money, should be given some rigid inspection.
